

UICC Fellowships And Personnel Exchanges

The International Union Against Cancer (UICC) offers long-, medium-, and short-term fellowships and personnel exchanges to qualified investigators in the field of cancer research worldwide:

American Cancer Society—Eleanor Roosevelt International Cancer Fellowships (funded by the American Cancer Society): 15 to 20 grants are available annually to recognized senior investigators who have been actively engaged in cancer research for at least five years. The grants contribute to the travel and cost-of-living expenses of the Fellow and a maximum of three dependents for six to 12 months. The average total grant value is $27,000. Application deadline is October 1 for selection in March of the following year.

Yamagiwa-Yoshida Memorial International Cancer Study Grants (funded by the Japanese National Committee for the UICC and the Olympus Optical Company in Tokyo): 10 to 15 grants are available annually for bilateral research projects, including advanced training in experimental methods or special techniques. Grants are generally awarded for one to three months and contribute to the awardee's travel and cost-of-living expenses. The average grant value is $5,000. Application deadlines are June 30 and December 31, and awardees are notified in September and March, respectively, of the following year.

International Cancer Research Technology Transfer Project (ICRETT) (funded jointly by the National Cancer Institute [USA], the Imperial Cancer Research Fund [UK], the Cancer Research Campaign [UK], the National Cancer Institute [Canada], Deutsche Krebshilfe [FRG], the Nordic Cancer Union [Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden], the Swedish Cancer Society, and the Israel Cancer Association): About 150 awards are available annually to scientifically or medically qualified investigators in the early stages of their careers to spend 14 to 28 days in an appropriate host institute abroad for the development, exchange, and compilation of research data and techniques in the basic, clinical, or behavioral areas of cancer research. The maximum award value of $2,400 is a contribution towards the awardee's travel and cost-of-living expenses. Selections are made on an ongoing basis, and awardees are normally notified within two months of the receipt of a complete application.

Suitably qualified candidates can receive application forms by contacting the Fellowships Department, UICC, 3 rue Conseil-Général, 1205 Geneva, Switzerland.
